

DANIEL-

Lions Dont eat backbone..

They say he was a captive,
In the land of Babylon,
A young man among strangers,
Many miles from home.
He was treated very well,
As ordered by the king,
Who had plans to change him,
So he gave him everything;.

The plan was realy devious,
For Daniel and his friends
Would be trained to serve the king,
And all his ways defend.
Well, Daniel's having none of this,
He knew the king was wrong,
He also knew, that he a Jew,
Must sing a different song..

There was no God but Daniel's God,
Of this he was quite sure,
Darius just could not compete,
He'd tried it o'er and o'er,
When he proclaimed no one should call,
On anyone but him,
Daniel opened windows wide,
Toward Jerusalem.

Now Daniel knew he'd be alright,
He knew Jehovah well,
His God who could do anything,
Would break the bands of hell.
So with his back, straight as a whip,
He faced the king alone,
The lions couldn't hurt this man,
Cause lions don't eat backbone.

27,11,07